Engineering Plastics and High Performance Materials

09/2007

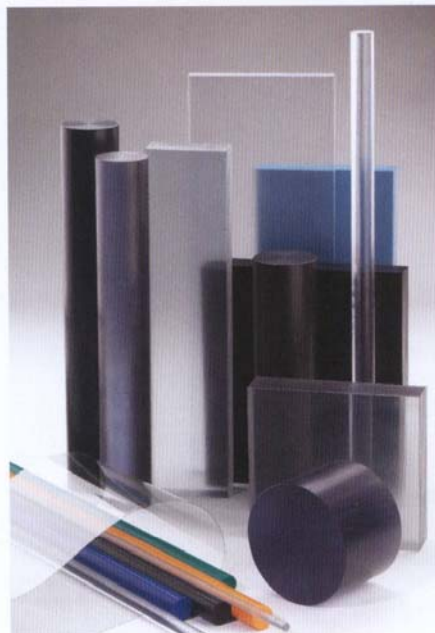

Semi-finished products

Röchling Sustaplast is recognized worldwide as an industry leader in the manufacturing of engineering plastics and high-performance materials.

Building upon our technical expertise with acetal and nylon stock shapes, Röchling Sustaplast LP has also become one of the market's leading suppliers of specialty and high performance materials.

Staying focused and in-tune with our distributors' needs and changing market demands, we know what our customers need to compete today.

- Broad product range and inventory selection of acetals, nylons, specialty products and HPM's
- Proven quality where it counts: flatness, tolerance, surface finish and material consistency
- Same day or next day shipping available on most stock items
- Up-front competitive prices but flexible in aggressive situations
- Excellent freight prepaid policies
- Drop-shipments with protection and confidence
- Conveniently shipped from both coasts, Exton, PA or Ontario, CA
- Experienced and knowledgeable sales staff—inside and outside
- Flexibility on custom or special runs
- Lot, batch, physical property and ultrasonic testing available
- Active programs with our distributors to find and target new business
- Efficient and technologically advanced manufacturing equipment
- Modern and innovative technical support from our industry-leading parent company
